

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT AND GLOBAL ECONOMY

Katarina Heretikova

PhD., Department of Humane Sciences, Faculty of Civil Engineering,
Slovak University of Technology, Bratislava, Radlinského 11, 813 68 Bratislava,
Slovak Republic; Phone: +421-2-59274216, E-mail: heretikova@svf.stuba.sk

Abstract: In every society creation and realistic completion of Sustainable Development requires active proceedings, new solutions, which in close contact with the uniqueness of each country, form the basis and origin of nursery of clash of interests. In addition pervading process of globalization makes pushing principles and requirements on Sustainable Development forward complicated with regard to its internal contentions views. Process of globalization intensifies and diversifies conflicts and their solution requires their, identification, designation and looking for the ways of how to solve them.

Key words: Permanently sustainable progress, globalization, human society, economic progress, social progression